

Description

To build a team is to create a collaborative work culture. In a team environment, both management and employees believe that thinking, planning, and decision-making work better when everyone works together. Experts believe that tasks that are shared and rewards that are shared lead to group success.

Objectives

- To define a team culture
- To understand the stages of teams
- To understand the difference between traditional organizations and teams

Audience

This training is designed for individuals participating in leadership development activities.

Requirements

There are no regulatory requirements.